Robert Barranger's design and construction expertise spans more than 30 years in all phases of building design and construction. A licensed Architect, he has successfully planned and designed a variety of project types including public facilities, municipal buildings and law enforcement facilities. Several of these projects have garnered design awards. He is a resident of Toms River Township in Ocean County, New Jersey.

Mr. Barranger co-founded Cornerstone Architects in 1987 and serves as the Partner in Charge of Public Architecture. Mr. Barranger assumes administrative responsibility for the firm's municipal design projects. In addition, he is responsible for overall quality assurance of design and construction documents. Robert has attended and completed The International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) training program for the planning, designing and construction of police facilities at the University of Maryland and is an Associate member of the organization.

Mr. Barranger is a Registered Architect, a licensed Professional Planner and a Certified Interior Designer in the State of New Jersey. He is an active member of the American Institute of Architects at the national, state and local levels. A 12 year former Chairperson of AIA New Jersey's Public Awareness Committee, Mr. Barranger continues to serve as a member on the committee. He volunteers his time and expertise in the continued promotion of the value of New Jersey Architects to the public.

In 2004, Mr. Barranger and his partners were honored with the Firm of the Year Award by the New Jersey Society of Architects. This award recognizes design firms that have made major accomplishments in the field of architecture and that have distinguished themselves both professionally and personally.

He has been recognized on three separate occasions by AIA NJ for his volunteer service to the profession of Architecture.
